Employment to be Highest in Several Years at Fort Lewis

Fort Lewis, Wash. — Activation and build-up of the 9th Infantry Division will result in hiring of 240 employees to fill Civil Service position vacancies, Fort Lewis officials said today.

Hiring will be spread over the balance of this year and the early part of 1973.

In addition, 90 temporary Civil Service positions will be filled, and various summer hire programs will boost total employment by several hundred.

The increases will far out-balance position losses caused by closure of the U.S. Army Training Center and the U.S. Army Personnel Center.

Although a reduction of 98 primarily semi-skilled positions results from discontinuation of these activities, many of the employees will be placed in other jobs here, officials said.

Normal attrition will account for some of the remaining loss.

Summer employment will be the highest here in several years. Seventy-two persons will be hired for seasonal jobs, a hundred under the Department of the Army's Summer Employment of Youth program, and 150 through the Department of Labor funded Neighborhood Youth Corps.

Division-connected hiring for Civil Service positions will produce an increase in the regular work force from 2483 to 2519. About a hundred of the present positions are unfilled.

Employees affected by the reduction-in-force will receive notices April 28. The few actually separated will be released June 28.

Separated employees will be afforded benefits under the Department of Defense Stability of Employment Program, Civil Service Commission Displaced Employee Program, and the Re-employment Priority List.

In addition, efforts will be made to find private employment for them, or jobs with federal or state agencies in the area.

NAVY LAUNCHES SHIP NAMED FOR BLACK HERO

Mrs. Gilbert W. Thorne, the former Mrs. Jesse Brown, breaks the traditional bottle of champagne over the bow of the escort ship USS JESSE L. BROWN (DE-1089) at the Avondale Shipyards in Louisiana.

The first ship of the U.S. Navy named in honor of a Black naval officer was launched at the Avondale Shipyards in Westwego, Louisiana, March 18, 1972. The USS JESSE L. BROWN (DE-1089), a KNOX-class ocean escort ship, is named in honor of the late Ensign Jesse L. Brown of Hattiesburg, Mississippi, the Navy's first Black aviator. Ensign Brown lost his life when he was shot down during a close air support mission with U.S. Marines fighting near the Chosin Reservoir during the Korean conflict. He was posthumously awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal and Purple Heart.

USAF Deputy Assistant Secretary Of Defense Receives Award

Brigadier General Daniel James, USAF, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense (Public Affairs) receives the Freedoms Foundation Award from Dr. Kenneth D. Wells II, Vice President, Public Affairs, Freedoms Foundation, during a special ceremony on Friday evening, April 21, 1972, at the National Convention of the National Society Children of the American Revolution, held at the Sheraton-Park Hotel, Washington, D.C.

The Award to General James is based on the submission by the National Society Children of the American Revolution, of the text of General James' speech to that Society at last years convention on April 23, 1971.

Links Presents Art Show

The Tacoma Chapter of Links will again provide an outlet for youths to explore human expression and a means for others to enjoy the contemporary concern with creativity through its Sixth Annual Art Show.

Participants of the show are junior and senior high students in the Tacoma-Pierce County area whose works have been selected by their school arts and crafts instructors for display.

The show will hang in the Allied Arts Building May 7 through June 2 and award winning works will tour Puget Sound National Banks during the months of June and July.

Heading the committee for this year's display are Mesdames E.H. Williams and Clarence Martin and assisting with preparations and the opening on May 7 are Mesdames Earl Blackshear, Algernon Boddie, Hugh Fountain, John Finley, Harry Jeffries, Robert Morris, Harold Moss, John Marks, Charles Owens, W.P. Stafford, James Wilson and William Wade.

Davison to get strategic post

WASHINGTON — Maj. Gen. Frederic Ellis Davison will take command of the strategic and often racially troubled Eighth Infantry Division in Europe in a few weeks, according to Pentagon officials.

Davison, who at 54 is currently deputy chief of staff for the Seventh Army personnel in Europe, will become the first of his race to command a United States Army division, Pentagon officials said.

The change of command puts Davison in one of the most militarily and racially sensitive and important posts in Europe.

The 8th Infantry Division is one of four in Germany and one of only two infantry divisions there.

In the event of a conflict Gen. Davison will be commanding what is considered a highly important part of the defense mechanism of NATO.

Additionally, the 8th Division has had more than its share of racial strife over the years, particularly in the town of Baumholder, where almost half the division is located.

MAJ. GEN. FREDERIC E. DAVISON

GENERAL IN VIETNAM

Brigadier General James Frank Hamlett, USA, one of our black Army generals on active duty is shown leaving a bunker during a recent field inspection in Vietnam. B/G Hamlett is presently Commanding General of the 3rd Brigade, 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) one of two U.S. tactical units still in Vietnam at this time.

Youth is changing

NEW YORK —

Roy Wilkins, head of the NAACP, said he was encouraged by a "noticeable expanding of the mood" of the white population of South Africa especially among the young.

Wilkins, just back from a trip to South Africa, told newsmen at Kennedy International Airport, he nevertheless was depressed over the country's continuing apartheid policy.

"I was encouraged by a noticeable expanding of the mood of the white population. It is particularly among the young people. They are beginning to question whether the government policies have been productive to the cause of peace," Wilkins said.

Wilkins, who visited South Africa to address the Assn. of Educational and Cultural Advancement of Africa, also said the black people of that country were extremely happy that a black leader from the United States had come to speak to them.

Church Shows Interest in Youth

THE SHILOH BAPTIST CHURCH HONORS
Pastor & Wife
Rev. & Mrs. E. S. Brazill

May 7, 1972, 3 P.M., Visting churches of Tacoma, Bremerton, Seattle are invited to honor this special occasion.

CHURCH SHOWS INTEREST

The First Congregational Church is responding to interest hat has been shown in establishing a group for couples etween the age of 20 and 30 years. The first step has been aken in formulating plans where such a group can be ormed and in meeting once each month can very well fulfill many of the needs and hopes of these young people.

This group will be composed of young people from all religious sects, not confined just to members of the First Congregational Church. Primarily, a regular meeting will provide an opportunity to discuss important spiritual, personal and social issues and ideas, and to establish some good relationships with all who may be interested in such a program.

An organizational meeting for this 20-30 group (which will be exploratory in nature and will lay the foundation for the group) will be held on Friday, May 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the church dining area at the First Congregational Church, 209 South J Street, Tacoma. Interested couples or persons are encouraged to participate. Further information can be obtained from the church office.

Notice

Bishop S. Rudolph Martin, President of the Home and Foreign Mission Department of the Churches of God in Christ International will conduct a special service at Emmanuel Temple Sunday, May 8 at 3 p.m.

Bishop Martin has successfully pastored Victory Temple Church of God in Christ, Seaside, California for over 25 years. He has traveled extensively both home and abroad for mission work. He has traveled to England, Africa, France, Greece and Jerusalem, among other places to inspire others to concern themselves about mission work.

Bishop R.E. Altheimer, Pastor of Emmanuel Temple and head of the Home of Foreign Mission Department of Washington State is host pastor. This service will include all churches of God in Christ in Washington State.

The public is cordially invited to attend this great inspirational service. "Thou shall not wholly reap the corners of thy field . . . . nor gather every grape. Thou shall leave them for the poor and stranger. I am the Lord your God." -Lev. 19:9-10

 A duel was fought by James Shott and John Nott. Nott was shot, and Shott was not. In this case it was better to be Shott than Nott.

There was a rumor that Nott was not shot, but Shott himself insists that he was not shot. It may be that the shot Shott shot, Shot Nott, but the shot that Nott shot, shot not Shott.

The moral of this story is, be sure you get the story straight before you repeat it.

 One way to get along some better in this world is to try and be kinder than necessary.

 A parrot is different from a human being because the parrot is content to repeat just what it hears. Are you a parrot?

 An average father is one who wears out a pair of shoes while the rest of the family wears out a set of tires.

I KNOW SOMETHING GOOD ABOUT YOU

Wouldn't this old world be better, if the folks we meet would say I know something good about you, and then treat us just that way! Carried with it this assurance I know something good about you when it is fine and dandy, if each hand-clasp warm and true. Wouldn't things here be more pleasant if the good that's in us all,
Were the only thing about us, that folks bothered to recall!
Wouldn't life be lots more happy if we's praise the good we see!
For there's such a lot of goodness in the worst of you and me.
Wouldn't it be nice to practice this fine way of thinking too;
You know something good about me, I know something good about you!

THEY NEVER COOPERATE

Seeing an employee working among the inmates of an insane asylum, a visitor became alarmed and said to the employee, "Are you not afraid these inmates will 'gang up' on you and destroy you?" The wise employee replied, "Not at all. The insane never work together. They never cooperate."

The spirit of cooperation is not only an indication of loving hearts, but also of brilliant minds. God's people forget differences of opinion and work together for a common cause, namely, the upbuilding of the Church.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

 What is the difference between the communist who supports not church, and the person who will not support the one to which he belongs.

 What is the difference between those who do not believe in the Bible classes, and those who never attend them?

BLACK HISTORY

JANUARY 4, 1799 ..... George Washington owned 300 Black slaves.
19, 1988 ..... First African Baptist Church organized in Savannah, Georgia (1755 years too late)

FEBRUARY 14, 1760 .... Richard Allen was born. Founded A.M.E. Church because of prejudice against the Blacks ... 1796.
25, 1870..... Hiram R. Revels, of Mississippi was seated in the U.S. Congress.
27, 1939..... Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt resigned from the DAR because they refused to permit Marion Anderson, Black contralto singer, the right to sing in the Constitution Hall.
28, 1776..... General George Washington wrote complimentary letter to Phyllis Wheatley, Black poetess.

PROMISE YOURSELF:

To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Gate Offers African Studies and Crocheting Classes

The General Adult Training and Education (GATE) Program is featuring a free African studies course and a crocheting class.

The African studies class is being taught by Mr. Peter Wanguri on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30, and the crocheting instructor is Mrs. Velma Johnson, a Model Cities resident, whose class meets on Tuesday and Thursday from 6 to 8.

The African studies and crocheting classes are designed to provide individualized instruction, giving each student the opportunity to select his own objectives, goals and projects, and thus learning at his own pace. These classes will run for six weeks.

Some of the major topics in the African studies class are customs and culture of African countries south of the Sahara, European and Western influences on African way of life, government and politics of Africa, the religions of Africa, and several others to include student interest.

In the crocheting class people learn to make all of the basic stitches and even some fancy ones. This knowledge will yield numerous beautiful handmade garments, curtains, doilies, etc.

Since the African studies and crocheting classes have only recently started, there is still time to enroll.

The GATE Program now has a free and reliable child care program designed to take care of children ages 3-14 while you attend class. They are in Apartment 71 of Conifer Village from 6 to 10 Monday through Thursday evenings.

If you would like to attend any of the GATE classes, please call LO 4-7200, Ext. 634 and ask to be registered. The GATE advisors are Tom Hilyard, C. J. Ollee and Nolan Osher.

Elizabeth Koontz Takes Oath As Deputy Asst. Secretary Of Labor

WASHINGTON - Elizabeth Duncan Koontz, Director of the U.S. Department of Labor's Women's Bureau, has been sworn in as a Deputy Assistant Secretary of Labor.

The oath was administered by Assistant Secretary of Labor for Employment Standards Richard J. Grunewald.

This appointment, Grunewald said, "Emphasizes the Labor Department's determination to raise the employment status of women, both in the public and the private sectors and is consistent with our major goal of increasing employment opportunities and eliminating discrimination in employment for minorities and women."

Mrs. Koontz will continue to serve as Director of the Women's Bureau and will coordinate women's programs with other Federal Government agencies through the Interdepartmental Committee on the Status of Women of which Secretary of Labor J.D. Hodgson is Chairman.

She will also maintain public contact with individuals, groups and organizations outside the Federal Government to strengthen the role of women in the workforce.

Mrs. Koontz is one of almost 90 women who have been appointed or promoted to top-level positions during the Nixon administration. The program to place women in full-time, policy-making positions, with annual salaries of $28,000 and up, was stepped up early in 1971. The President issued directions asking Federal departments and agencies to intensify their efforts to recruit women for top-level positions.

Mrs. Koontz holds a B.A. degree in English and elementary education from Livingstone College, Salisbury, N.C., and a Master's degree in elementary education from Atlanta University. She has received several honorary degrees and citations for her work in education and the humanities.

Book On The Black Press Published

AMES, Iowa - "Almost anything you may want to know about the black press, as well as a long list of who's who in black journalism will be found in Wolseley's carefully detailed book. . .', National Newspaper Publishers Association's Intercom.

They are talking about the Black Press, U.S.A., now available in a paperback edition within seven months of original publication from the Iowa State University Press.

Written by Roland E. Wolseley, professor of journalism at Syracuse University, The Black Press, U.S.A. offers a comprehensive view of a newspaper, magazine, radio, and television industry that reaches millions.

The author describes the elements of news, editorial content, advertising policies and problems, circulations, social pressures, financing, training and educational standards, and possibilities for journalists employed within this multi-million-dollar industry.

The black press is playing a new and significant role in United States life and interest in black culture is higher than ever before. The Black Press, U.S.A. explores the history, origins, viewpoints, scope, directions, and prospects for the future of this significant area of mass communications.

The newly published paperbook edition is available at $3.95 from bookstores or from the Iowa State University Press. The cloth edition is $10.50.

SAFE SCOUR POWER

You shake out a dash of scouring powder in the sink, on pots, pans, the counter top. It's routine. But consider the consequences. According to Consumer Reports, "Over a period of months or years, whatever you clean regularly with scouring powder will be noticeably the worse for wear." Scouring powders are too abrasive for most surfaces.

They contain bleach. That means you can't scrimp on rinsing surfaces that touch food if you're concerned with the safety of your family.

Many scourers contain phosphates. Phosphates down the drain help fertilize the water they reach, accelerating the growth of algae.

What's the alternative? Baking soda. Used dry on a damp sponge or on a plastic mesh pad, it offers threefold safety. It won't scratch so it's safe to use on any surface. It's a pure, natural product which is used in baking, as a dentifrice, an antacid remedy, so it leaves no harmful residue on those critical food service areas.

Environmentally it's safe, too, for it's free of phosphates.

MAIL TALE

In August of 1872, a man named Lewis W. Smith became the first person in history to have a mail order filled by Montgomery Ward. Which seems only appropriate, because Mr. Smith was a postmaster!

61,000 people have switchedto Eyewitness News.

61,000 people is a full house at Husky Stadium.

It's more than the total population of Everett. Or about the size of Bellevue.

How do we know Eyewitness News has picked up such gains?

The latest American Research Bureau survey for Seattle tells us — and tells all the other television stations as well.

This independent research organization verifies that in the last 12 months 61,000* more viewers are now watching Clif Kirk, Sandy Hill and the rest of the Eyewitness News team at 6:30-7:00 p.m.

That's the biggest gain any local news program has ever shown in this market.

Where did all these new Eyewitness News viewers come from?

Most of them switched from other television channels.

So the Eyewitness News team must be doing something right.

But don't count on their resting on their laurels. There are a lot of new Eyewitness News ideas in the works. Like more news compacted into the 30-minute program. More on-the-spot coverage. And the interesting behind-the-scenes reporting you just don't find on other stations.

If you haven't switched yet, catch an Eyewitness News throughout the day. At 9 a.m., noon, 6:30 p.m. or 11 p.m.

*Audience estimates based on American Research Bureau's television reports, Feb.-Mar., 1971 / Feb.-Mar., 1972. Subject to qualifications available upon request.

Positive Outlook for Men in Uniform

Fort Lewis, Wash. — That forgotten American—the soldier—may get out of the shadow of indifference if the Secretary of the Army's plea is heeded.

"When you see a man in uniform, say thank you!" the Secretary, Robert F. Froehlke, told his heavily civilian audience at the Tacoma-Fort Lewis-Olympia Chapter of the Association of the U.S. Army dinner meeting here Wednesday night.

"Ninety-nine of a hundred of our people were willing to bear arms, support and defend the country," he said. "But behind the uniform is a human being who needs civilian support."

He said it would be a wonderful precedent if the civilian membership of AUSA would start greeting servicemen and women with a simple "Thank you."

"It's something they hear all too infrequently," he declared.

Secretary Froehlke, who helped open the Job Fair at North Fort and then visited several troop units here, named several personal objectives for the Army during his time in office. Included are:

1) Civilian control. "It's necessary, good . . . and expensive," he said. This control, provided for by the Constitution, supplies a necessary buffer between the body politic and the military.

"I have no intention of getting involved in operational affairs of the Army," he added. "That's for the professionals."

However, he noted, he is intimately involved in the appointment of general officer selection board members. Criteria he gave them in his letter of instructions, he said, will probably soon be made public so that everyone can see what is expected of the Army's top leadership.

2) Determination of policy.

3) Creating a climate in the Army and civilian communities in which the Army can achieve its objectives.

He said he had both good and bad news to report from Congress. Under "good" he listed:

—Recognition that the Army had problems, but that the "trend line was in the right direction."

—Agreement that maintenance of a strong Army is vital, and that this objective will be supported.

Under "bad" came:

—Congress is discouraged at the high cost of military hardware.

—It has killed development plans for the SM803 main battle tank.

—The legislators think the Cheyenne attack helicopter costs too much to warrant procurement.

—Congress thinks the Army is support-heavy, with too high a ratio of logistics to combat forces.

Under the heading, "immediate needs," he gave top priority to reducing personnel turbulence.

"We must do this for our families . . . and for management and economy reasons, too," he said.

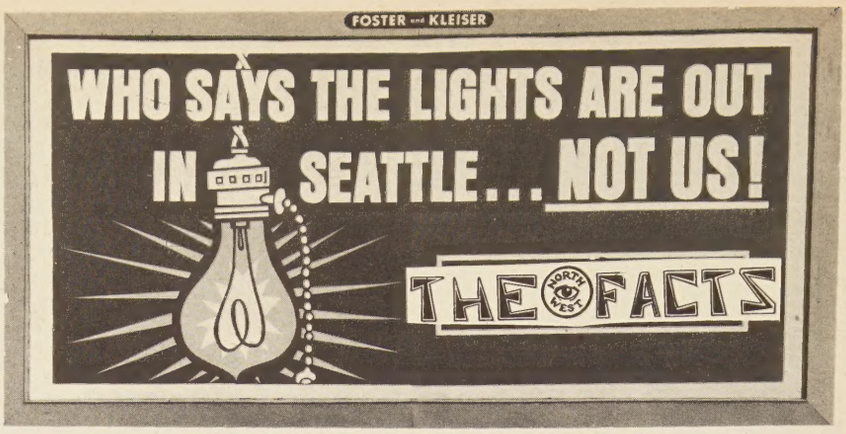
He forecast that tours and assignments would be more stabilized by this fall, boosting morale and job satisfaction.

The latter he pinpointed as one of the key factors in achieving a volunteer Army.

"I have never spoken with a young soldier who said he was being pushed too hard mentally or physically," he said. "Our young men want to be challenged . . . and they're not being challenged sufficiently now."

He closed by acknowledging that America has serious problems, but those who dwell only on the negative side sell her short.

"Pick any country, choose any criteria for comparison. "In any comparison, she is superb."



A multimedia "Boost Seattle" advertising campaign has been initiated by over 40 participating businesses headed by Foster and Kleiser featuring the theme, "Who says the lights are out in Seattle --- No us!" Over 150 outdoor advertising signs as well as Radio, TV and newspaper coverage will be utilized in the campaign.

FLY KELLEY, LESLIE AND TONI

Although none have been off the ground before in a motion picture role (left & right) Kelley Miles, daughter of movie star Vera: Leslie Uggams, night club and concert recording artist; and Toni Clayton, international model and graduate architect, will be flying in stewardess roles aboard MGM's suspenseful air melodrama. "Skyjacked." In Addition to dispensing coffee, tea and milk, the trio of lovelies fends off a hijacker terrorizing their jetliner. The Walter Seltzer Production, coming to theatres in time for the Memorial Day holiday was filmed in Color and Panavision, directed by John Guillermin, and stars Charlton Heston and Yvette Mimieux.

Lakewood Employment Security Office Has Jobs for Youth

The Lakewood Employment Security Office has recently instituted a Youth Employment Program. This program will include a job information center and a job referral system geared for youths ages 16 to 22. At this time of the year, the emphasis will be on summer employment, both full and part time; however, the program will continue throughout the year with job referrals made for full and part time work for both students and non-students.

The job referral system will operate much like the regular Job Bank. The young men and women file applications for work with the office, listing their interest, qualifications, and job preferences. The employers write or call in their job orders, and request a certain number of applicants with the necessary qualifications to be referred to them. The office then acts as a middleman between the potential employees and the employers by bringing the two together. The members of the youth department has set goals in an attempt to serve the Lakewood area+—some which are:

1. Since the Lakewood office is a new addition to the community, to develop a working relationship between the community and Employment Security.

2. Due to the large number of youth who will come to the Employment Security office, and due to the particular problems concerning summer employment, to develop a job referral system specifically for young men and women in addition to the already existing Job Bank.

3. To provide a central point for job information for youth seeking work; including job hunting hints, interview techniques, resume writing, etc.

4. To develop a referral service for individual young people to agencies able to fulfill their particular needs; including referrals to those job programs specifically recruiting young people from disadvantaged families.

5. The employment of as many young people as possible (16-22) in the Lakewood area.

6. The establishment and maintenance of a functioning Job Bank for summer youth.

7. To provide employers with competent, industrious, and eager summer employees.

8. To provide vocational counseling to young people the need for a Youth Employment Program has arisen in the past two or three years, and the Lakewood office is trying to respond to this change in the community. Any suggestions for a better youth job center or inquiries for further information will be well received.

It is the hope of the Summer Youth Program Coordinators that the employers of both large and small business will utilize this facility. You can reach the Summer Youth Program Coordinators between the hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 582-1010.

Brigadier General Daniel James, USAF, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense (Public Affairs) addresses United States Senate Youth Program participants during a recent briefing at the Pentagon. The Senate Youth Program enables two competitively selected high school students from each state and the District of Columbia to participate in a week-long indoctrination into operation of the United States Senate and Federal Government generally. The program is financially supported by grants from the William Randolph Hearst Foundation.

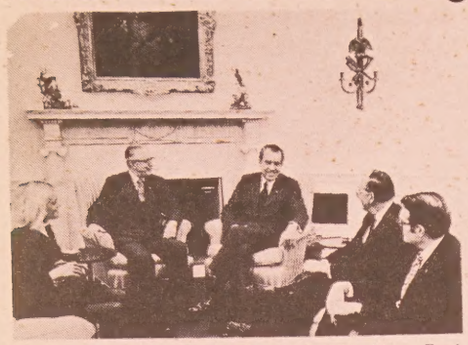
Kiwanis and President Nixon Talk about Drugs



At a recent meeting in the Oval Room of the White House, President Nixon discussed Kiwanis International's anti-drug program and its plans for participation in the Bicentennial of the American Revolution with Kiwanis International President Wes H. Bartlett (left) of Algona, Iowa. (From left) Miss Jaynie Miller, daughter of Senator Jack Miller of Iowa, Bartlett, the President, Senator Miller, and Darrell Coover, Washington, chairman of the Special Kiwanis International Committee on Public Relations.

Wes H. Bartlett (second from left), Algona, Iowa, president of Kiwanis International, and Darrell Coover (far right), Washington, D.C., chairman of the Special Kiwanis International Committee on Public Relations, conferred with President Richard M. Nixon on matters of mutual interest, Tuesday, March 14, according to word received by Eugene Warren, President of the Kiwanis Club of Westend Tacoma.

They were accompanied to the Oval Room of the White House, where the conference was held, by Senator Jack Miller of Iowa (second from right), and his daughter, Jaynie, a student at Georgetown Visitation Prep School in Washington, D.C.

The conversation covered Kiwanis' anti-drug program, Operation Drug Alert, and Kiwanis' plans for participation in the Bicentennial of the American Revolution in 1976.

Y.E.S.

By Debbie Ross, Y.E.S. Reporter

Youth Employment Service is a summer jobs placement office located at 920 Commerce Street. This office is operated by minority and disadvantaged youth. The office staff has been in training for six weeks. The youth involved are now able to serve their peers.

The Y.E.S. staff wishes to thank the many dedicated adults who participated and are still participating in their train ng.

The office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The office will be open through August. The Y.E.S. office operates on a "self-help" concept. Tacoma area youth are providing services to economically disadvantaged youth, minority youth and youth in general in that order of priorities.

The youth staffing the Y.E.S. office are: Curtis Robinson, Junior Office Manager, Stadium High; Michael Richardson, Counseling Section Chief, Clover Park; Frankie Smith, Receptionist, Lincoln; Harryette Jefferies, Youth Counselor, Wilson High; Jackie Singleton, Youth Counselor, Mt. Tahoma; Jeanyne Jackson, Personnel Technician, Mt. Tahoma; Renee Robertson, Lincoln; and Debra Ross, Clerk Typist, Y.E.S. Reporter, Mt. Tahoma.

The following is a partial list of the services available:

CLERICAL: Skills include typing, filing and operating basic office equipment. Jobs should be for a tt least four hours per day, minimum pay $1.60 per hour.

WORK EXPERIENCE: Many young people are more interested in a chance to learn about a specific career than in a large salary. If the job you can offer falls in this category, the salary will be merely a stipend.

RECREATIONAL: This would include general maintenance work in either public or private recreational areas.

..OTHER: Have a job not described in these classifications? If so, we'd still like to talk to you and try to work something out.

SERVICE & PROJECT JOBS

BABYSITTING: Can be a one time or permanent job. Available on short notice.

CAR WASHING & WAXING: Can be a one time or permanent job. Available on short notice.

FENCE MENDING: Minor repairs and painting. Immediate service.

LANDSCAPING: Complete or partial lawn service. Includes supervisor. Immediate service.

WINDOW WASHING: Window washers available on short notice for one or two story structures.

HOUSECLEANING: Complete cleaning or special services. Available on short notice.

All service and project jobs require minimum pay of $1.60 per hour. Equipment must be provided by the employer. The jobs can be handled on either weekdays or weekends and all jobs, except babysitting, can be handled by youth crews.

For more details please call Youth Employment Service, MA 7-6178. Sponsored by The National Alliance of Businessmen.

COOL BREEZE TO SHOW

Sidney Lord Jones (Thalmus Rasulala) relaxes after a year and a half of San Quentin frustration, as Mona (Pam Grier) injects the question of payment.

Finian (Sam Laws), who fronts a bookie joint in downtown Los Angeles, has alcohol forced down his throat by Lt. Knowles (Lincoln Kilpatrick), who demands a confession.

"Cool Breeze," a Gene Corman Production for MGM, is an up-to-the-minute suspense-thriller about the lure of a fortune in jewels. Spurred in part by political idealism, and evermore by a chance to live on easy street, a band of self-styled, big city revolutionaries goes after three million dollars worth of glitter.

With Thalmus Rasulala, Judy Pace, Jim Watkins, Lincoln Kilpatrick and Raymond St. Jacques heading the cast, "Cool Breeze" deals with a conflict of intent and interest, leading to an avaricious double cross, violent death and a frenzied flight from the law. Gene Corman produced and Barry Pollack directed his own screenplay. Margaret Avery, Pamels Grier and Paula Kelly co-star in the Metro-Color urban adventure.

"Cool Breeze" was filmed on locations in California. The film was cast in Los Angeles with the cooperation of Ebony Magazine. Open auditions were held by Corman at his Sunset Strip offices, and over 300 established and aspiring performers were interviewed before the 52 speaking roles were filled.

Gene Corman says "With tremendous assistance from our casting coordinator, Cassius V. Weathersby, who was responsible for hiring and coordinating hundreds of atmosphere players, we received outstanding cooperation from the community during filming. And I Hope we have given many actors and actresses a professional opportunity to display their talents which they so rightfully deserve."

Roger Lewis, producer of MGM's "Shaft" sequel, "Shaft's Big Score," joins pitcher Vida Blue and "Shaft" star, Richard Roundtree at a press conference announcing Blue's acting and film debut in the third "Shaft" film, as yet untitled.

IT'S ELEMENTARY BY THOMPSON

PALLADIUM and RHODIUM are uncommon elements that have a lot in common. Members of the platinum family, both precious metals are well known for their use—in making alloys of gold.

To the world of medical science, however, these two elements are worth more than gold—because they are vital in the production of Minocin minocycline, an important new drug effective against a host of infectious diseases.

Developed after 10 years of research by American Cyanamid Company's Lederle Laboratories, Minocin is considered an "exotic" antibiotic—due to the scientific sophistication required in its development. . . and the "exotic" nature of the elements used in its manufacture.

Washington D.C. -- Who's Cricket? Author Benard F. Conners, an ex-FBI agent, helps throw Director J. Edger Hoover a curve with this one--the mysterious Cricket, who may or may not be a girl in man's garb but who is, nevertheless, the Assistant Director in an explosive suspense novel "Don't Embarrass the Bureau" (Bobbs-Merrill). The book highlights behind-the-scenes revelations about the FBI and the bureaucracy of Hoover's "old gray battleship." Unlike the CIA or the Secret Service, and despite the recent passage by Congress of the Equal Rights Amendment, the FBI does not have women agents and Hoover refuses to hire any. Hollywood offers are being made for the book and suggested candidates have already been named for the role of G-Girl (?) Cricket, albeit for obviously different reasons: trim Candice Bergen, playing hands up, and Raquel Welch, who has both hands loaded.
